DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 11 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,145,736. This is a double patenting rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nerenberg et al. (2,820,585).

Nerenberg discloses a process for making a dispensing assembly comprising carton means (1) having a dispensing opening (U shape 4) in a side wall (2) thereof, a pour spout means (6) mounted in the dispensing opening and including a front panel; a separate liner means in the carton (liner 10); bonding the liner means to the front panel whereby upon initial opening of the pour spout means a portion of the liner bonded to the front panel separates from the liner means providing access to the interior thereof, see for example (Figs. 3, 5, and 7).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nerenberg et al. (2,820,585).

Nerenberg does not disclose that the pour spout means front panel comprises a lamination of a paperboard material and plastic material nor a coating layer comprises polyethylene on the plastic material. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Nerenberg's pour spout means by having a lamination of a paperboard material and plastic material on the front panel of the pour spout and a coating layer comprises polyethylene on the plastic material, as a matter of engineering design choice, since the examiner takes an official notice that the mentioned lamination of a paperboard material and plastic material of pour spout and coating layer comprises polyethylene on the plastic material are old, well known, and available in the art, for example milk and juice carton containers, in order to protect the paperboard from the liquid.

Claims 103 and 104 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nerenberg et al. (2,820,585) in view of Sternau (3,605,578).

Art Unit: 3721

Nerenberg does not disclose a first nor a second wing portion attached to the front panel at a first and second fold line of the pour spout. However, Sternau discloses a similar process for making a dispensing assembly comprising a first and a second wing portion (Fig. 5; via wings 24 and 26) attached to the front panel at a first and second fold line of the pour spout (Figs. 1-3, 5, and 11).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified Nerenberg's process for making a dispensing assembly by having a first and a second wing portion attached to the front panel at a first and second fold line of the pour spout, as suggested by Sternau, in order to avoid undesired sifting of material from such boxes and simplify manufacturing procedures for such boxes (column 1, lines 45-46).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 20-26 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 3721

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
